This is Clarksville Refrigerated Lines, Inc.'s (carrier#262995) request for exemption from filing and exemption from public release. CRL is a privately held corporation and is requesting exemption in order to avoid competitive harm and to avoid disclose of information that is confidential. CRL is a dedicated operation with only one customer. Disclosure of information pertaining to CRL could supply competitors with information that would enable them to underbid future business opportunities and at the end of current contracts to underbid and take over current operations. Disclosure could also supply our current customer with information that they in turn could use to justify a reduction in our rates thereby reducing our profit margin. Because of the nature and structure of our business, all financial information is prepared internally and access is limited. Internally, access to completed financial statements are limited to the owners, CFO, and controller. Externally, the financial statements are given to our bank in order to receive financing and with the understanding that they are confidential documents. Because our bank requires the statements to be audited, our auditors are also given a copy and access to company records. Access to payroll information is also limited. If you need more information you can contact me at auntiemo317@yahoo.com or call me at (972)224-0072. Thank you, Melissa Anthony, Controller
